Method for supplying health related information on internet

Abstract (Basic):

... A method for supplying health related information on the Internet is provided to supply the health related information according to physical constitution of each user.

... A client connects to a site for supplying health related information according to each person using one's computer(100). The client is checked as to a registered member or not through one's ID and password for using the health related information supplying site(102). The client selects a wanted menu out of health related information on a homepage of the site(106). The menu may be a health fortune, a...
